present administration and himself:

NAVY DEPARTMENT, June 28, 1852. Sin: Having accepted the candidacy for the second office in the gift of the American people, I deem it proper to relieve your administration from any possible criticism or embarrassment on my account, in the approaching canvass, by retiring from my place as the head of the Navy Department. I therefore beg that you will approve my resignation, which is hereby tendered.

Be assured, Mr. President, that I take leave of you and my colleagues at the council board, with whom I have labored in harmony for the past two years, with sensations of deep regret; that I shall cherish the liveliest interest for the fame and success of your administration during the residue of your term; and that I shall ever bear my testimony to the disinterested devotion, pa-triotism, and ability with which you have given your faculties to the consolidation of the Union. and the interest, honor, and renown, of the whole country.
With considerations of the sincerest respect and esteem, I am, very faithfully, your obedient servant, WILL. A. GRAHAM.

To MILLARD FILLMORE,
President of the United States.

EXECUTIVE MANSION,

Washington, June 30, 1852.
Siz: I received last evening, with unfeigned regret, your letter of the 28th instant, tendering your resignation as Secretary of the Navy. Our official intercourse has been so intimate and so entirely harmonious, that it seems like parting with one of my own family to lose you from the council board, and I am quite sure that every member of the Cabinet will share with me in this

Lowe you many thanks for the able, faithful. and impartial manner in which you have administered your department; and I take this occasion to say that your official conduct has at all times met my entire approval.

I appreciate most fully the high sense of delicacy and propriety on your part which induces you to separate from the administration at this time, lest it might be embarrassed by your connexion with it in the coming contest. I cannot regret the cause which compels you to this act, wever I may regret the act itself. It would have been gratifying to me if the constitutional advisers with whom I commenced my administration, and who have acted so cordially together could have remained a unit in person and sentiment until its close. But fate and the sovereign people have ordered otherwise. I yield to the necessity of the case, and shall, but not without great reluctance, comply with your request by accepting your resignation as soon as I can find

A successor to supply your place.

Hoping that the country may appreciate your merits, as I have done, and reward you accordingly, I remain your sincere friend,
MILLARD FILLMORE.

Hop. W. A. GRAHAM, Secretary of the Navy.

The Guests at Old Point.

A letter in the Baltimore Sun, dated Friday, says:

"The new and splendid steamer 'North Carolina,' of the 'Bay line,' arrived at an early hour this morning in ten hours from Baltimore, having on board Gen. Winfield Scott, and a host of other passengers, who have come down to sea breeze, and bathe in the briny waters of old ocean.
"The number of visiters at this time does not exceed 150, and those who may be reasting in your city, and who may desire to come down, need not fear but they will find plenty of good rooms on their arrival. "Mrs. Fillmore and Miss Fillmore left here on Wednesday last on their return to Washington city. We hope their first visit to 'Old Virginny' has been as agreeable to them as to their numerous acquaintances formed during their sojourn "Gen. Scott visited the fortress this morning, and was received with the customary honors to the General-in-Chief of the army."

THE NEW CONGRESS LIBRARY .- The proposed arrangement of the new library at the national capitol is upon a plan worthy the nation and the age. It embraces, as we learn from Norton's Literary Gazette, a suite of five rooms, extending aggregate three hundred and two feet There will be two stories of alcoves, the second one receding three feet from the first, so as to admit of a gallery with but little projection; and second story of alcoves will be a third story, with book-cases against the walls. The whole interior is to be of iron, and fire-proof, so as to avoid the possibility of another calamitous fire, and is to be finished in a style of great architectural beauty. The shelves will be porcelain. The expense will amount to $72,000. and the library is calculated, when finished, to accommodate 50,000 volumes. Ten thousand dollars have been appropriated, and the books purchased to take their place in the new library; and valuable additions will be made to the library f.om time to time.

THE CONSTABULARY .- The Grand Jury of the Criminal Court has recently recommended the "dismissal of all the constables now holding commissions from that court, and the reappointment of only such as may be satisfactorily shown to be efficient and competent. Fifty-five of these (say the jurors) do not act at all, or only occasionally; and of the fifty-seven who act, the sureties of many are dead, and several of the others insol-The jurors further say, that "there are several who might be finally dismissed with advantage to the public, as altogether unfit; whilst others should be reappointed.

SIR WM. DON IN TROUBLE .- At Cleveland, on Thursday evening, after the performance at the "Melodeon," Sir William Don and one of the French Ballet Troupe were arrested, on the charge of fraudulently obtaining passage for that troupe on a boat between New Orleans and Cincinnati. The amount thus obtained was placed at $150. The Baronet was lodged in jail, where he remained until the following morning, when, no one appearing to prosecute, he was discharged.

Origin of the word "Whig." In the sixteenth century there arose in England a party opposed to the king, and in favor of a republican form of government, in which the people would have a voice. The party adopted as their motto, "We hope in God." The initials, or first letter of each word combined, read "Whig," and were used to designate the party. [Exchange. A Tennessee paper says: "Gen. Pierce has one advantage over Scott, Gen. Pillow testifies that Gen. Pierce 'served under me' (Pillow) in Mexico. Alas, poor Scott; he never had that honor." THE ERA BEFORE PENNY PAPERS .- The first newspaper published in Virginia cost fifty dollars a year. It was published weekly, and advertise-ments were inserted for ten dollars the first week, and seven dollars for each week after.

PUNCH US. WINE .- Fielding mentions a clergyman who preferred punch to wine, for this ortho-dox reason, that the former was a liquor nowhere spoken against in Scripture.

THE WHIG PLATFORM.

The Whigs of the United States, in Convention assembled, firmly adhering to the great conserva-tive republican principles by which they are con-trolled and governed, and now, as ever, relying of this morning, will explain the motives that prompted the resignation of Mr. Graham, and the cordial good feeling existing between the constitution and the Union, do proclaim the following as the political sentiments and determinations for the establishment and maintenance of effected: 1. The government of the United States is of 1. The government of the confined to the ex-a limited character, and it is confined to the ex-battle of Fort George.

In 1814 he made a new army and restored the ercise of powers expressly granted by the consti-tution. and such as may be necessary and proper the granted powers into full execution; and that all powers not thus granted or necessarily implied are expressly reserved to the States, respectively, and to the people.

2. The State governments should be held secure in their reserved rights, and the general government sustained in its constitutional powers, and the Union should be revered and watched over as "the palladium of our liberties."

3. That, while struggling freedom everywhere enlists the warmest sympathy of the Whig party, we still adhere to the doctrines of the Father of his Country, as announced in his Farewell Address, of keeping ourselves free from all entangling alliances with foreign countries, and of never quitting our own to stand upon foreign ground. That our mission as a republic is not to propagate our opinions, or impose on other countries our form of government by artifice or force, but to teach by example, and show, by our success, moderation, and justice, the blessings of self-government and the advantages of free institutions.

4. That where the people make and control the government, they should obey its constitution, laws, and treaties, as they would retain their selfrespect and the respect which they claim and will enforce from foreign powers.

5. Government should be conducted upon principles of the strictest economy, and revenue sufficient for the expenses thereof, in time of peace, ought to be mainly derived from a duty on imports, and not from direct taxes; and in levying such duties, sound policy requires a just discrimination, and protection from fraud by specific du-ties when practicable, whereby suitable encouragement may be assured to American industry, equally to all classes and to all portions of the country.
6. The constitution vests in Congress the power to open and repair harbors, and remove obstruc-tions from navigable rivers; and it is expedient that Congress should exercise that power, whenever such improvements are necessary for the common defence, or for the protection, and facility of commerce with foreign nations or among the States: such improvements being, in every instance, national and general in their character.

7. The federal and State governments are parts of one system, alike necessary for the common prosperity, peace, and security, and ought to be regarded alike with a cordial, habitual, and immovable attachment. Respect for the authority of each, and acquiescence in the constitu-tional measures of each, are duties required by the plainest considerations of national, of State, and of individual welfare.

8. The series of acts of the 31st Congress commonly known as the Compromise or Adjustment (the act for the recovery of fugitives from labor included) are received and acquiesced in by the Whigs of the United States as a final settlement, in principle and substance, of the subjects to which they relate; and, so far as these acts are concerned, we will maintain them, and insist on their strict enforcement, until time and experience shall demonstrate the necessity of further legislation, to guard against the evasion of the laws on the one hand, and the abuse of their powers on the other-not impairing their present efficiency to carry out the requirements of the constitution; and we deprecate all further agitation of the questions thus settled, as dangerous to our peace, and will discountenance all efforts to continue or renew such agitation, whenever, wherever, or however made : and we will maintain this settlement as essential to the nationality of the Whig party and the integrity of the Union

"Glorious Achievement.

"Victory follows victory in rapid succession. It was a settled maxim that we could never cease this war with honor until we had taken the castle of San Juan de Ulloa. Thanks be to our distinguished and skilful general-to his brave officers and men-to the gallant officers and men of our navy, this great achievmement has been effected with little loss of life on our part. We have taken the Gibraltar of the Western Continent. We have added new laurels to our wreath. THE GRATI-TUDE AND ADMIRATION OF A FREE PEOPLE ARE DUE TO MAJOR GENERAL The court ordered the presentation to be laid SCOTT. We congratulate our country again upon the prowess of their army and navy. In less than eleven months, a succession of achievements has poured in upon us which would grace the annals of any people under the sun. Let our countrymen rejoice, and let them pour out their thanks to the brave men who have done honor to the character of this free country.

"A feu de joie was fired this day, by Captain Mordecai, at the arsenal in this city. The manifestations of a people's joy will spread as far and as fast as the glorious news is circulated of the capture of Vera Cruz."

Protection from Lightning.

Protection from Lightning.

THR undersigned, being the duly appointed Agent of SPRATT'S ELECTRICAN AND ELECTRO-METALLUSAUS LEARNING-ROD MANUFACTORY. COVINGTON, Kentucky, begs to offer these superior Rods, of Spiral-twisted, Carbonized Annealed Iron, with Zine Protectors, and Electro-positive elements combined in their manufacture; thus rendering them equal to copper as conductors. They are in ten-feet lengths, with accurately-ditted brass-screw connecting, joints, an entire new style of metallic (patented) attachments, for brick or frame buildings; also, glass isolaters, of a novel and ingenious construction, (patented,) forming a lock; the whole mounted with a solid platinum silver point, (patented,) twelve inches long, surrounded at the base with three angular negative magnets, which possess the power, to an extraordinary extent, of discharging the opposite elements of the most fearful thunderstorm, and embrace the entire perfection of science up to the present time; the whole constituting the most magnificent and perfect allent conductor ever presented to the public.

Safety has not been compromised by affording these excellent rods at such low rates; the greatest attention has been given to their construction, so as to be readily attached. The astonishing power of the negative magnets, in discharging the air of its opposite elements, has been clearly demonstrated by the Electrometer, when unmagnetized points have shown but slight results, though placed under the same conditions. In fact, they gather and silently discharge electricity from the atmosphere when you would scarcely suspect any being present.

These improvements being secured by double letters patent, you are hereby cautioned against laying yourselves liable, by purchasing of those who are not authorized, or who are substituting inferior imitations. All agents duly appointed can show their certificates. Have good rods or none.

CHARLES W. HEYDON,

I do hereby certify that I have applied various powerful chemical reagents to Spratt's Patent Points for Lightning-Rods, and that the results of these experiments convince me that they will resist the action of atmospheric causes, and thereby preserve the extremity sharp—a condition most essential to protection against lightning. The reagens used in the above experiments were a solution of chloride of sodium, (common salt,) acetic acid, sulphuric acid, and hydrochloric acid. With the first, there was no action on the metal; with the several acids, there was very slight—a fact sufficient to show that atmospheric influences would have no sensible effect. oo sensible effect.

JOHN LECONTE, Prof. of Nat. Phil. et Chem.

UNIVERSITY OF GA., October 8, 1850.

University of Ga., October 8, 1850.

The Lightning Conductors of Mr. Spratt, offered to me, are well calculated to perform the office for which they are intended. Yours, truly, Prof. ROBT. PETER.

Lexington, Ky., February 20, 1860.

Chicago, September 3, 1860.

This may certify that I have examined, somewhat critically, James Spratt's Patent Lightning Rods, and that I am of opinion that it is constructed on scientific principles. For combining durability, che.phess, and efficacy, I deem it equal, and I think superior, to any other rod ever offered for my inspection.

combining durability, che-pness, and efficacy, I deem it equal, and I think superior, to any other rod ever offered for my inspection.

Augusta, (Ga.) November 11, 1850.

This will certify that I have examined the Lightning Rods, Metallic Points, and Isolating Attachments, manufactured by Mr. Spratt, and regard them as constructed in conformity to the general laws of the electric fluid; and the metallic compound constituting the Points, as promising, from the result of several tests to which they were submitted, to resist for years the action of those atmospheric causes most likely to corrode them.

A. MEANS.

Prof. Phys. Sc., Emory College, Ga., and Prof. Chem. and Pharm., Medical College, Ga.

The Lightning Conductors put up by Mr. Henry M. Smith, of this city, on the plan of Mr. Spratt, appear to me to be very well devised; and, in point of mechanical construction, are the best I have ever seen.

It is to be hoped that the use of these Rods may become general, as an mportant auxiliary defence against a danger which must be regarded as of no ordinary magnitude, to which all buildings are liable.
